

Refugees

Refugees you're welcome here

We will cure all your needs, and your peers.

We will all listen to you

We have all got ears.

I know it might be a struggle

To be away from your family

But we will make it up to you,

Happily.

In a world unknown they seek solace,

Leaving behind all they've known,

With hope in their hearts, they find a new place,

Building a home where seeds of love are sown.

In search of safety,

They bravely roam,

Leaving their homeland,

Seeking a new home.

Through trials and challenges, they endure,

Their resilience and strength forever pure.

Hope blooms,

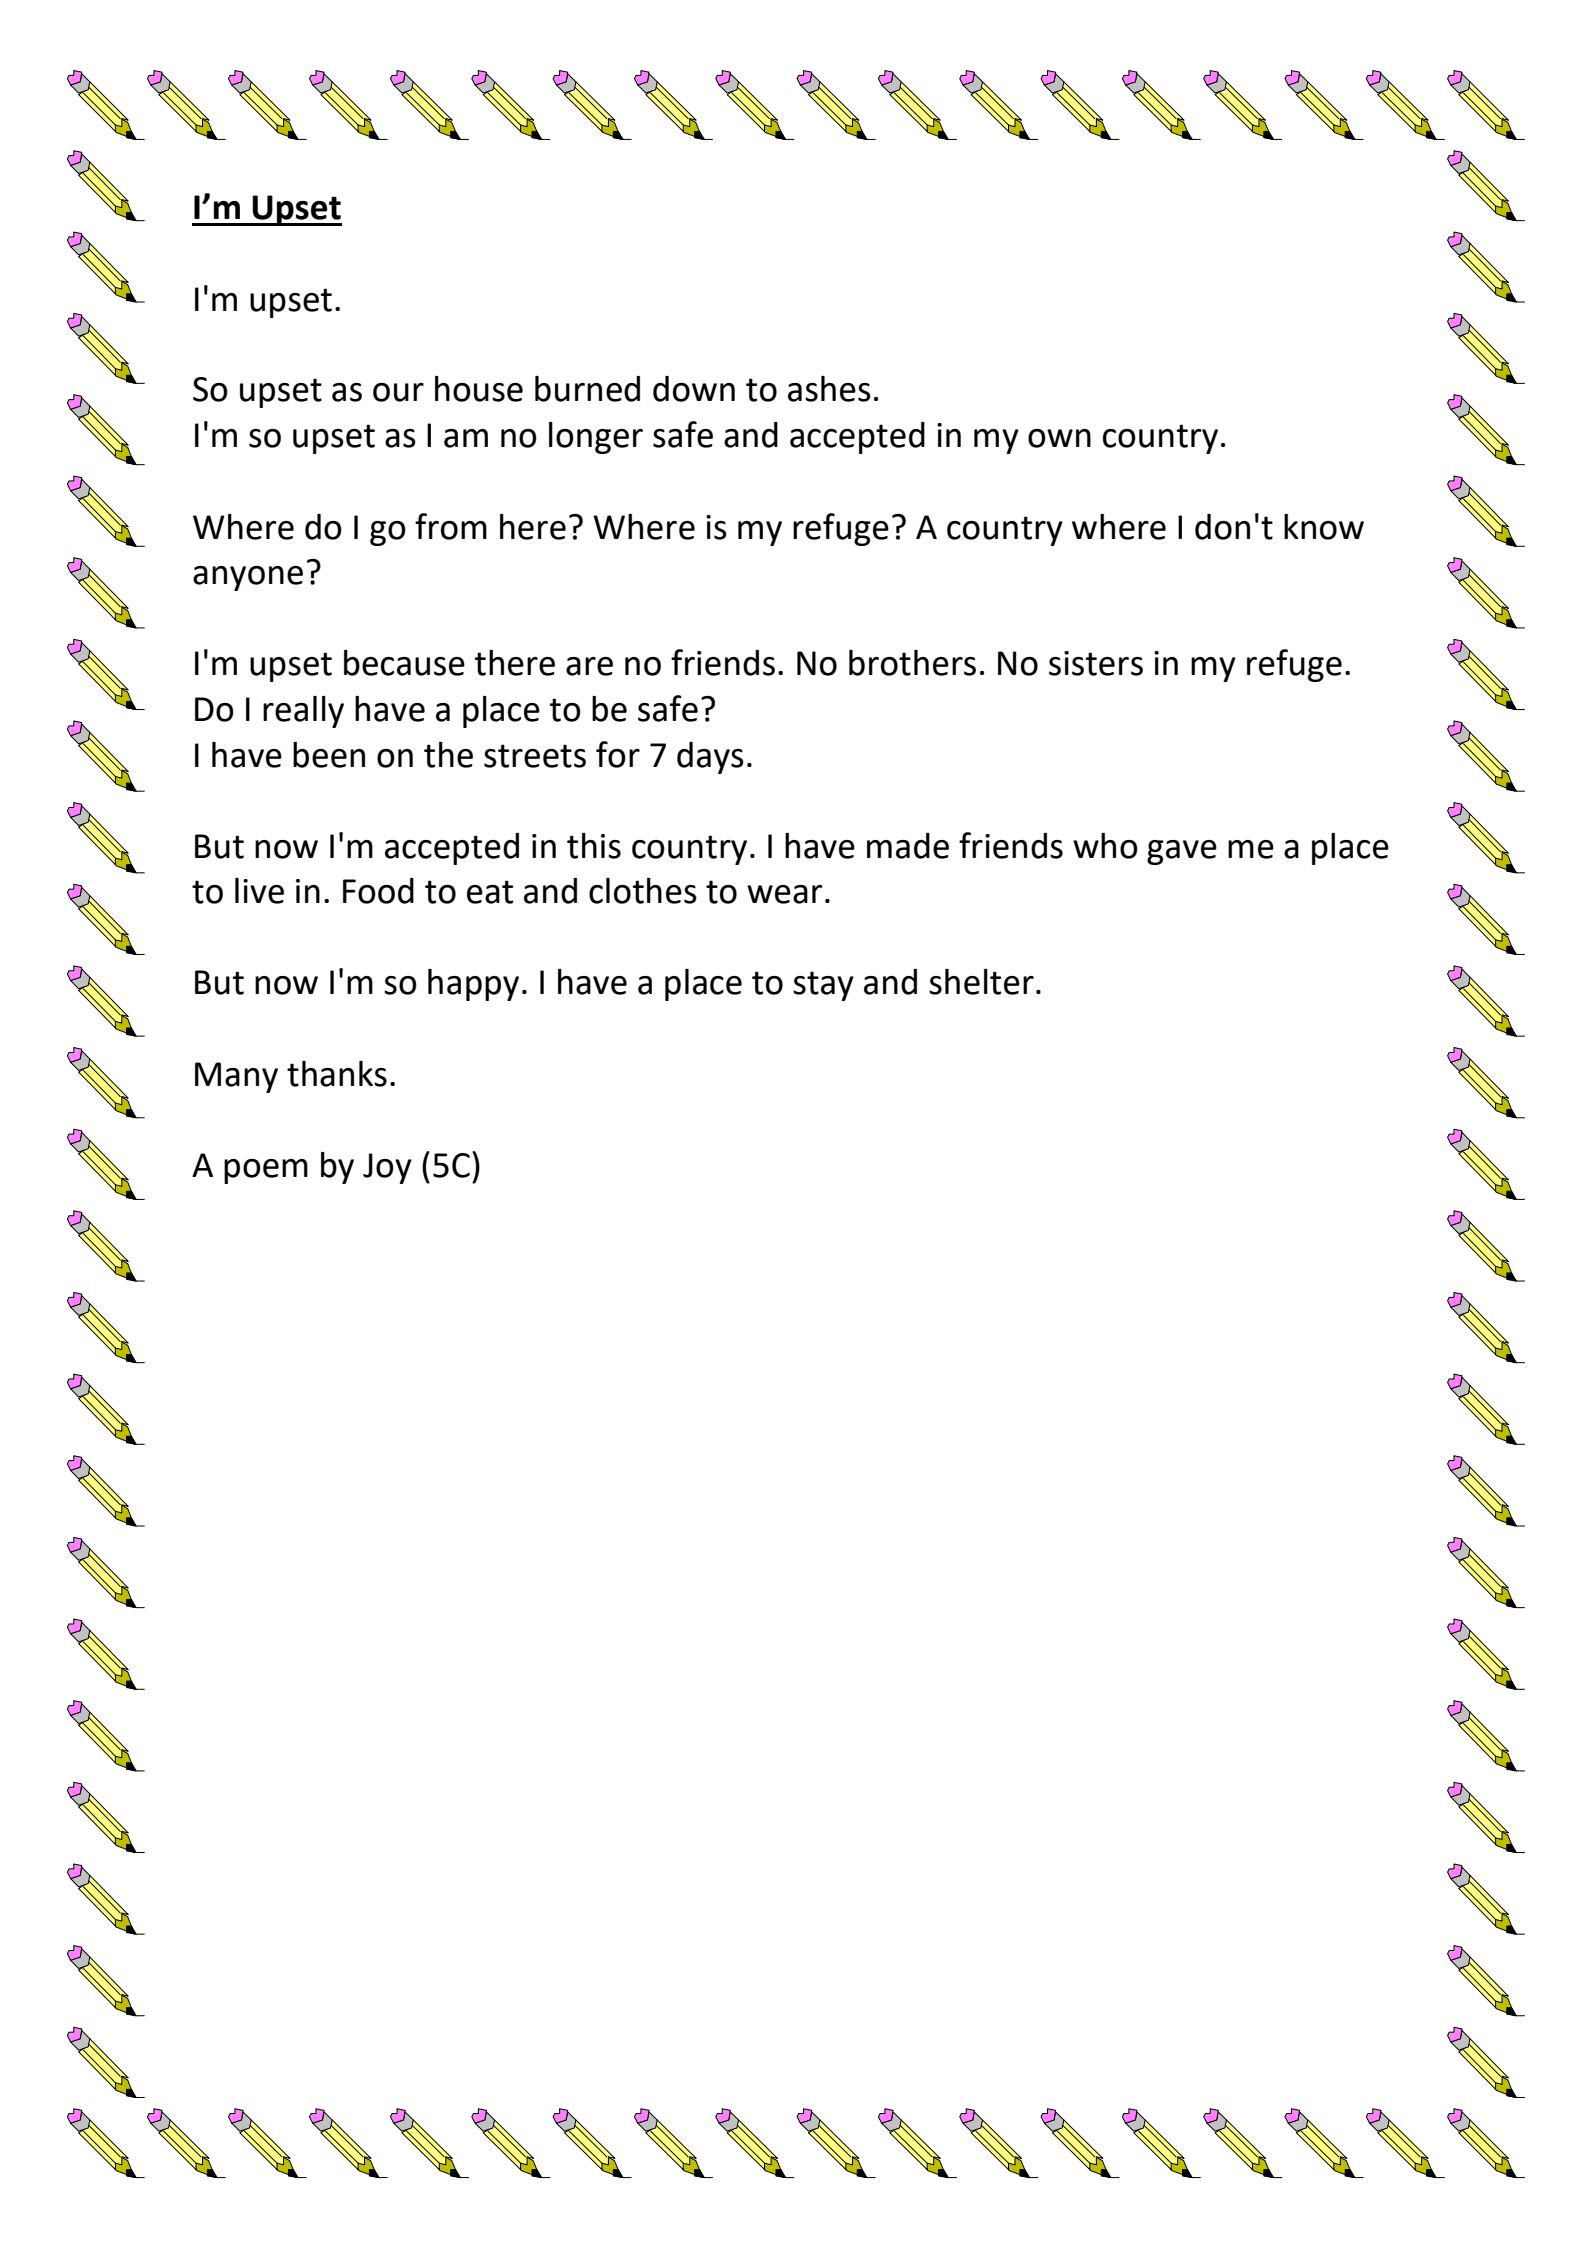

Hearts soar,

Refugees find strength forevermore.

Courageous hearts,

Seeking new starts.

I'm Upset

I'm upset.

So upset as our house burned down to ashes.

I'm so upset as I am no longer safe and accepted in my own country.

Where do I go from here? Where is my refuge? A country where I don't know anyone?

I'm upset because there are no friends. No brothers. No sisters in my refuge.

Do I really have a place to be safe?

I have been on the streets for 7 days.

But now I'm accepted in this country. I have made friends who gave me a place to live in. Food to eat and clothes to wear.

But now I'm so happy. I have a place to stay and shelter.

Many thanks.

A poem by Joy (5C)

I am a refugee

I am a refugee

I had to leave my country, my home

And now I see

I am alone.

I feel like I am screaming

But nothing comes out.

On the outside I'm gleaming,

But on the inside I pout.

I miss my family, my mother

I miss my father at war

I miss my sister and brother

The pain I'm feeling has no cure.

The hallway I look down feels new

The people I live with don't understand what I've been through

The paintings on the walls are dark and dim too

...There's a lot like me, not just a few....

Refugee

Bombs fall,

Our land is not safe,

Screaming and crying,

People dying,

No time to grieve,

We have to leave.

Everything must stay,

We must flee to get away,

Fill a bag with what you can,

Quickly, no time – we must leave.

What you leave behind,

Will always be in your mind.

It might be an unsafe journey,

But you're okay now.

You will be okay.

You will be okay.

You will be okay.

You will be....okay.

Fly Away to Safety

No time to think

No time to cry

Just pack our bags

And say goodbye.

No time to think

No time to cry

Look ahead and don't look back

Just say goodbye.

No time to think

No time to cry

Wipe away our tears

And fly away to safety.

HOPE

HOPE

The thing we all feel,
when we believe in ourselves,
hope is the only way out,
hope is the answer.

HOPE

There will come a day,
that we will have to move,
wars and conflicts
and much, much more.

HOPE

But don't you worry,
hope is coming.
Just believe in yourself
and you'll be safe.

HOPE

So all the refugees,
don't be scared.
just be calm,
and hope will come.
